Sir/Madam:

REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION OF PETITION TO REVIVE AN UNINTENTIONAL ABANDONMENT UNDER
37 C.F.R. § 1.137(b)

On July 8, 2005, Applicant received a notice that its Petition to Revive an unintentional abandonment was dismissed because Applicant had not filed a reply as required under 37 CFR 1.137. The Petition was denied because it did not contain the required reply. Petitioner had filed an amendment that Applicants believed placed the application in condition for allowance. The Advisory Action indicated that the Examiner was asked whether the amendment placed the application in condition for allowance prior to rendering a decision on the petition for revival. However, none of the documents reflected a 2005 review, and Applicants were directed back to the Advisory Action of January 2004. Regardless of the foregoing, based on the Office of Petitions statement that the Examiner was consulted with respect to the reply that included an Amendment and was filed with the prior petition to revive and that it did not place the application in condition for allowance, Petitioner requests that the Office of Petitions accept this Request for Continuing Examination which should place the reply in a condition to allow the petition to be awarded.

WHEREFORE, the Applicants respectfully request revival of the above-captioned Application, based on its request for continuing examination.

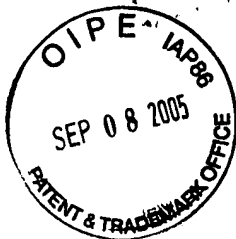

Respectfully submitted,
